

POLICE CHIEF R. C. HARPSTER QUITS HIS JOB

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, whose 15-day leave of absence expired today, tendered his resignation to Burgess William G. Weaver late Wednesday afternoon, and turned in his badge and other equipment issued to him by the borough. The resignation is effective today.

Burgess Weaver today issued the following statement:

"Chief Harpster, due back today, has indicated to me that he will not return to work. He turned in his badge and other equipment Wednesday afternoon."

Gives No Reason

The burgess said Harpster gave no reason for tendering his resignation, but it was believed that he took this action because of the refusal of the borough council to grant him an increase in pay at its last regular meeting on February 5.

At that time salary increases from $1,920 to $2,160 were voted for other members of the police department. The finance committee recommended an increase from $2,760 to $3,000 for the police chief. It was opposed by the safety committee, of which Council Fred Hummelbaugh is chairman, and the proposed increase was voted down by the council.

Councilman Hummelbaugh said: "At this time the safety committee is opposed to giving Harpster a raise. We have our reasons which we don't care to discuss at this time." At the same meeting Council President H. M. Oyer said Harpster should either be given the pay increase or charges preferred against him.

Given 15-Day Leave

Harpster applied for and received the 15-day leave which started February 7 and expired today.

Burgess Weaver said the police department would continue to operate as it has during the past 15 days. No acting chief will be named. He said the resignation will be forwarded to the borough council for further action, and that the Civil Service commission will be asked to conduct an examination to fill the vacancy.

Members of the Civil Service commission are former Burgess C. A. Helges, Councilman Hummelbaugh and Dr. Joseph J. Baker.

Harpster became chief of police here on November 1, 1945. He filled the vacancy left by the resignation of Glenn Guise. Burgess Weaver said Harpster, in resigning, gave no indication of his plans for the future, other than he expected to remain in Gettysburg for the time being. His home was in Lewistown, Pa.

Tells Of Three Visits To This County By Washington

The probability that George Washington made three visits to Adams county rather than only two was set forth by J. M. Sheads, member of the Gettysburg high school faculty and former president of the Adams County Historical society, in a broadcast Wednesday evening over WGCT.

In addition to the two times the first president visited this county while serving as the nation's chief executive, Mr. Sheads had this to say about a third visit—which was the first in point of time:

"Little information is available about Washington's other trip through Adams county, which in point of time, was actually his first journey through this region. It is known that when George Washington was a young man employed by Lord Fairfax of Virginia as a surveyor, he crossed through southern Pennsylvania to the land office at Philadelphia. This fact is referred to in his diary but the exact route of his itinerary is a matter of conjecture. A Mr. Orr, who once lived near Ortanna, always insisted upon the accuracy of a tradition which lodged George Washington overnight in an old house on his place. It would seem impossible

ANNOUNCE SALE WEANER DAIRY

Edgar Weaner, Gettysburg R. 4, today announced the sale of Weaner's Dairy to the Lancaster Milk company, operator of Penn Dairies and purveyors of Pennsupreme milk products.

The sale brought to an end Weaner's dairy which began 53 years ago under ownership of C. J. Weaner and continued under his son, Edgar Weaner, since 1930.

Under the terms of the sale, Edgar Weaner will continue to operate the restaurant he established 2½ years ago in the front of his dairy along the Harrisburg road.

Weaner's trucks and bottles are continuing to be used by Pennsupreme and will be used until the bottles are replaced. Pennsupreme milk is being delivered to Weaner's Dairy customers in the same trucks and by the same route as under Weaner's dairy.

According to the plan set up by Pennsupreme, the Lancaster Milk company plant at Littlestown will act as the receiver for milk produced in this section. Bottled milk and milk products will be delivered to the Weaner's dairy building where it will be distributed to delivery trucks going throughout the county.

Mr. Weaner is now selling milk produced by his herds to Pennsupreme. Some of the farmers who previously produced for Mr. Weaner are also selling their milk products to the Lancaster milk company and others have changed to other dairy farms in this area.

FARMERS ARE ASKED TO BOOST FOOD YIELDS

The Adams County Production and Marketing Administration committee today asked farmers throughout the county to step up production for the coming year to help the nation meet its requirements for more food products.

Chairman M. T. Walter said that the committee is urging the county's 2,700 farmers to increase acreage in all products except potatoes and wheat to help meet defense needs.

State Increase

The committee said that Pennsylvania has been asked to increase its corn acreage by 61,000 to 1,415,000 acres, increase its oats plantings by 31,000 acres to 850,000 acres, its soybean crop by 3,000 acres to 17,000 acres, its acreage devoted to fresh market vegetables by 3½ per cent to 37,390 acres and the acreage devoted to processed vegetables by 22 per cent to 63,890 acres.

The figures were not divided into county goals, or goals for individual farms, the committee said, because of the differences that obtain on various farms. Those farmers that are able to efficiently increase production should do so, and may increase their acreage far above the general average that would be set if a county farm goal was established. Other farmers cannot efficiently increase production.

Follow Good Practices

The committee said that the hoped-for increase should be made along lines consistent with good agriculture practices. "This is not a request for all-out production such as might be made in time of war, when foodstuffs are so necessary that we must forget good farming practices. The increase should be made on those farms which have the equipment and a reasonable assurance of labor and materials. The increased acreage should be carefully planned by the farmer so as to not disrupt his regular farm operation."

A SALUTE To the Spirit of VALLEY FORGE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

This day 173 years ago the little Revolutionary army of 10,000 under command of the Father of Our Country was encamped at Valley Forge, in defense of America's newly-declared independence.

Valley Forge epitomized the spirit of individual and collective freedom upon which our nation was built. The valiant ten thousand endured terrible privations—bitter cold, hunger, sickness—during that historic winter. George Washington had picked this place, partly because of its defensibility and partly to protect the young Congress which was meeting at York, Pa., from possible British attack.

Today the spirit of Valley Forge is facing a new and far more fearful test. This is the almost unbelievable bolshevist world revolution which aims at communizing the entire globe and bringing it under control of Moscow.

The bolshevist assault on humanity has proceeded far enough so it seems obvious that peace by negotiation is hopeless. Moscow doesn't want peace, because communism

ATOM-POWERED AIRCRAFTS ARE A STEP NEARER

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP) — The air force and the Atomic Energy commission announced today completion of the first phase of study leading to atom-powered aircraft. A joint statement on the conclusion of their "NEPA" project (Nuclear Energy for Propulsion of Aircraft) said "other projects being supported by the air force and the AEC in the field of nuclear powered flights will be continued."

The statement made no mention of who will head the next phase, but it is widely understood that it will be the General Electric company's Gas Turbine division, now being relocated at Lockland, Ohio, a Cincinnati suburb.

Next Phase Elsewhere

The next phase will be closer to the building of an atomic engine, presumably starting with some experimental components.

The NEPA project was directed by the Fairchild Engine and Airplane corporation, Hagerstown, Md., as a prime contractor to the air force. The Navy Bureau of Aeronautics shared the cost. Nine other engine companies participated as sub-contractors. The NEPA project will be terminated April 30.

The announcement said "the facilities and equipment (at Oak Ridge, Tenn.) used in this work will be utilized in other programs and temporary buildings will be dismantled."

This appeared to indicate that the next phase will be carried on elsewhere, presumably at Lockland where General Electric is building jet engines and is expanding both production and research facilities.

CHINESE REDS BURN PRIESTS

New York, Feb. 22 (AP) — A favorite Chinese punishment for priests today, says the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, "is to slit their throats, fill the wounds with cotton soaked in gasoline and ignite it, turning the men into living torches."

The Roman Catholic churchman-ator said yesterday that Chinese Communists are torturing Catholics who refuse to join a Red campaign to establish an independent Catholic church in China.

Msgr. Sheen, issuing a statement through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, of which he is director, declared:

"The efforts of the Chinese Communists to win Chinese Catholics to their cause have been pursued simultaneously with a most severe and ruthless persecution of the faithful — Chinese as well as foreign. x x x

"Nuns, both foreign and Chinese, have been stripped naked and dragged through the streets of Chinese cities tied to the tail of a horse.

"The whereabouts of numerous priests, and of at least one Catholic bishop, is unknown."

The monsignor also said Chinese Communists have been dynamiting missions.

Police Nab Pair In Blackmail Plot

Hampstead, Md., Feb. 22 (AP) — State police investigating a "blackmail job" last night seized two young Baltimoreans near here, wounding one of them in the arm.

Sgt. Thomas H. Hignett said the arrests resulted from efforts to extort money from Christopher C. Campbell, contractor from nearby Upperco, Md. Last May 29 Campbell was fined $3,000 in Baltimore federal court and received a suspended three-year prison sentence on a series of abortion charges.

Investigators said the two men, aged 21 and 23, were picked up about a mile from Hampstead on Maryland route 462 near route 30. Hampstead is 18 miles northwest of Baltimore.

Capt. Louis W. Bloom said one of the men was shot while "resisting arrest" by Lieut. J. P. Novicki. He was treated by a Hampstead physician, Bloom said, and was being questioned about the "blackmail job" with his companion today.

Acheson Speaks For Reciprocal Trade

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson told Congress today friendly countries will be forced to step up their trade with the Soviet bloc if they are needlessly denied access to American markets.

Acheson advanced that contention in urging the Senate Finance committee to approve a three-year extension of the administration's reciprocal trade program without some of the strings tied to it by the House. He declared the House recalcitrance would make the program "unworkable."

The secretary was the leadoff witness as the committee began hearings on extension legislation. The trade program, aimed at reducing barriers to world trade, permits the administration to lower tariff rates in return for similar concessions by other countries.

Acheson said in a prepared statement that some of the House curbs could be made more acceptable to the administration with modifications, but said others should be disregarded entirely.

RFC DIRECTOR ADMITS "BREAK" GIVEN FRIEND

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—One director of the Reconstruction Finance corporation today admitted giving a special break to the loan application of a personal friend, who recently became an RFC director himself.

William E. Willett, the director, testified to Senate investigators that he departed from usual procedure "as a personal favor" to C. Edward Rowe, a loan applicant who subsequently was named an RFC director last September.

Willett said he personally assigned the RFC examiner who made recommendations on a $300,000 loan the RFC board made last April 10 to the Harrington and Richards Arms company, of Worcester, Mass., of which Rowe was principal owner.

"Very Unusual"

When Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) asked Willett if he had not "departed from the usual procedure" in personally assigning the examiner, Willett answered: "Yes, sir. . . it is very unusual. . . I did it as a personal favor to Judge Rowe. Judge Rowe has been a personal friend of mine for years."

Committee members closed in with questions on Willett, who had opened his testimony with a denial of ever having "consciously yielded" to influence, as charged in a recent report of the committee.

"You would do that (personally assign the loan examiner) for any friend of yours?" Senator Douglas asked.

"I would," Willett said.

Has Been Favoritism

"Do you believe it proper for an RFC director to depart from the usual procedure set up for the general public to do a favor for a personal friend?" asked Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman.

"I think it would be all right as I do not have authority to make a loan by myself—a majority of the (RFC board) members present (when a loan is being considered) must approve it," Willett answered.

Willett testified at a Senate Banking subcommittee's hearings on whether there has been favoritism in RFC loans. A subcommittee report to the Senate earlier this month included a statement that two former RFC directors had described Rowe as "Willett's candidate" for a vacancy on the RFC board.

Rowe is now vice chairman of the board, although the Senate has never confirmed the nomination President Truman gave him last fall.

Ask Neutrals To Ban War Goods Sales

London, Feb. 22 (AP)—The United States and Britain are asking Switzerland and Sweden to ban the sale of war goods and materials to Communist countries, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

The request covers both the goods produced by the two traditionally neutral countries and the transshipment of supplies purchased elsewhere in the world.

The spokesman said the requests were made separately but along "parallel lines." He said France was being kept informed. The move is designed to tighten up the leakage of critical goods and raw materials into iron curtain countries.

Sweden produces steel, machine tools, armaments, precision instruments, and is an exporter of lumber, wood pulp and wood products. Switzerland manufactures a long range of precision instruments. Both nations are in a position to transship goods and raw materials to Russian satellite countries.

TROOPER ADDRESSES ARENDTSTVILLE FIREMEN

The Arendtville Fire company held its February meeting Wednesday evening with 25 members present. Cameron Hoffman, president, presided.

The company voted $5 to the Heart Fund drive and $5 to the Red Cross. Other business was routine.

Sgt. Joseph Temple, of the Gettysburg substation of state police, talked to the group on "Duties and Actions of Volunteer Firemen and Fire Police in the Event of Rural Fires." He used as a "bad" example the recent barn fire in the Fairfield area. He pointed out that the duty of state police and volunteer firemen is to protect life and property and this can only be done if roads are kept open and if the fire police use their authority to keep sight-seers from interfering with the operations of the men.

Cites State Laws

Sgt. Temple cited the laws governing highway traffic in the neighborhood of fires. Included were: First, all cars must keep a distance of within 500 feet both in front and behind the fire engine, which applies to both spectators and volunteer firemen; second, a 15-foot right-of-way must be maintained between parked cars in the area of fires. Violation of the laws may result in severe fines. The speaker said he would like to see one member of each fire company be appointed to serve as a contact with the State Police Fire bureau in reporting of fires.

Richard Bradford, Aspers, representing the Adams County Red Cross organization, talked on the advisability of organizing first aid classes in each of the upper Adams county communities for the purpose of civilian defense. Action will be taken on the suggestion in the near future.

The Good News Club of Biglerville, taught by Mrs. Fred Raffensperger, will meet Friday evening from 6 to 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoke Slaybaugh. Vast Rail Strike Looms For Britain

London, Feb. 22 (AP) — Labor Minister Aneurin Bevin met for 50 minutes this morning with the heads of three rail unions in a last ditch effort to avert a strike of some 600,000 British railroad workers.

Bevin told reporters "nothing yet" as he hurried from the conference to the weekly cabinet meeting at 10 Downing street to report on the situation.

If the unions call the strike in an effort to get higher wages — and thousands of workers already have walked out to show they mean business — Britain would face one of her gravest industrial crisis since the 1926 general strike.

Coal stocks already are at a dangerously low level. Even a brief stoppage of shipments would mean a widespread industrial shutdown.

College Dribblers Trounce Dickinson; Hare Breaks Wrist

The Gettysburg college cagers breezed through a costly 93-70 victory over Dickinson college here Wednesday evening for their sixth triumph in a row.

George Hare, brilliant forward, was lost to the Bulls for the remainder of the campaign when he fractured his right wrist early in the first half as he drove in for a goal attempt and was fouled.

Bob Pizolato, sophomore forward, watched the game from the bench. The lad suffered a concussion at Bucknell last Saturday and was kept out of action. He is expected to be ready to face Lehigh at Bethlehem Saturday night.

Coach "Ken" Bream's team encountered little trouble from the Red Devils and enjoyed a commanding lead after the first two minutes of action. Zilling gave Dickinson its only lead on a goal shortly after the game got underway. Bob O'Brien tallied a foul for the Bulls' initial point after about two minutes and then the Bream-men swept ahead 10-2 before Dickinson could tally again.

All Get Chance
At the end of the first period Gettysburg led 24-13 and at half time hiked its margin to 48-31.

Coach Bream made use of his entire squad in the last half.

Gene Coder played one of his best games and topped the scorers with seven goals and 10 of 12 free tosses. Belber played his usual fine game landing 16 points and being credited with seven assists. He kept Stark, Dickinson ace, well in check. Zilling sparked the Dickinson outfit with 22 tallies.

Dickinson missed the services of Kinsella who was out of action due to the death of a relative.

Freshmen Win

The college freshmen swung back into the victory column by routing the Dickinson yearlings 82-64 for their 10th win in 12 starts.

CAGE SCANDAL INDICTMENTS NEARLY READY

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Indictments are predicted soon in the nation's biggest college basketball fixing scandal.

A New York county (Manhattan) grand jury is delving into the mess involving some of America's best players.

Students at Long Island university—one of the schools hit by the latest bribery arrests—are protesting a ban on intercollegiate sports imposed by the LIU trustees.

At its opening session yesterday, the jury heard one witness, acting Police Captain William J. Grafenecker.

He headed the special detective squad that uncovered evidence of "fixed" games involving crack players of City College of New York and New York University as well as LIU.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the grand jury's first session disposed of "preliminary groundwork" in the case, and he predicted indictments within a week or 10 days.

Hogan indicated the possibility of a general conspiracy indictment against eight accused athletes and the alleged "money man," as well as indictments charging individuals with the giving and taking of bribes.

The district attorney said he had no present information that other colleges were involved in the latest basketball expose.

Garden "Unwholesome"
Hogan followed his blasts at Madison Square Garden college games with a mention that "some" colleges go all-out to get their teams into the garden.

Describing the garden as "an unwholesome atmosphere for college basketball," Hogan added:

"How do you get into the garden? Only if you're a top-notch team. In order to get there they (the colleges) make scholastic exceptions for athletes. A great many other concessions are made to achieve that desired goal."

Students at Long Island university, stirred by banning of all intercollegiate sports after the scandal broke last week-end, and a subsequent hint that the school might continue a minor sports program, began clamoring for complete sports reinstatement.

Ask Reinstatement
By late yesterday, 2,000 of LIU's 4,200 student body had signed a petition urging that intercollegiate sports—including basketball—be reinstated.

A university spokesman said yesterday that there was "some disruption of classes" although no major demonstration was staged.

Informing that a big protest rally had been scheduled for tomorrow, LIU President Tristram Walker Metcalfe indicated it would not be permitted.

The athletes arrested for throwing games and attempting to shave the winning point margin for the benefit of Salvatore Sollazzo, ex-convict, are:

Sherman White, Leroy Smith and Adolph Bigos of Long Island university and Ed Warner, Ed Roman and Al Roth of CCNY.

Recover $20,000
Ed Gard, LIU captain last season, was arrested as the contact man, and Connie Shaff of New York university for attempting to talk a teammate into working for Sollazzo. Gard also is accused of throwing games last season.

Hogan said that of some $30,000 in bribes paid the players, approximately $20,000 has been taken from the accused athletes.

In assailing college basketball conditions at Madison Square Garden, Hogan blamed the participating schools—not the garden. He said garden officials are "making an earnest and sincere effort" to police the premises against gamblers.

EXTENSION QUINT WINS

The Adams County Senior Extension cagers defeated the Gettysburg FFA dribblers 46-43 Wednesday on the local high school floor. G. Gantz led the winners with 23 points while Buchler topped the losers with 14.

GHS Meets Mechanicsburg Here Friday In Final; East Berlin, New Oxford On College Court

Three seniors will be taking part in their final basketball game when the Gettysburg high school Warriors close the campaign here Friday night by entertaining Mechanicsburg in a South Penn conference game.

Coach George Forney will lose Charley Ford, Guy Crist and Ivar Velde due to graduate next June. The Warriors have high hopes of concluding a mediocre season with a triumph. A win will be largely dependent on the ability of the locals to halt Sonny Jacobs, high scoring Wildcat guard. Jacobs, who had led the South Penn individual scorers practically all season, is now in second place with 219 points, 13 less than Ben Walker, of Chambersburg. Walker gained the lead with 23 points Tuesday while Jacobs was held to 11.

Mechanicsburg triumphed over the Forney-men 54-35 during the first half.

At 7 o'clock the Warrior reserves will also be out to average a 37-34 reverse suffered at Mechanicsburg.

Junior High Away
Rogers Herr's Gettysburg junior high dribblers will also conclude their campaign Friday night by playing at Mechanicsburg. The locals won here earlier in the season 49-28.

Delone Catholic will play St. Matthews Catholic at Conshohocken Friday night.

Rounding out the schedule will be Mt. St. Mary's college's engagement with the strong American university team in an important Mason-Dixon conference game at Washington, D. C.

CAGERS IN HOT SCORING RACE
New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Bill Mikvy of Temple and Mark Workman of West Virginia are blasting the hoop at a faster and faster pace in their duel for the National Major College Basketball scoring title.

Last night, even though Upsala upset Temple 96-93, Mikvy scored 33 points to fatten his 267-point average, best among the country's top scorers.

Workman did even better in West Virginia's 76-60 victory over Washington and Jefferson, scoring 48 points. He had 25.6 through last Saturday.

Monte Berman outscored Mikvy, 37 to 35, in sparking little Upsala to a big upset.

Cornell kept alive, temporarily at least, its hopes of tying for the Ivy league title with undefeated Columbia. The Big Red defeated Penn, 70-60, making Cornell's Ivy mark 7-2. Columbia has 10-0 in league play.

Villanova avenged an earlier defeat by taking Seton Hall, 67-61. Larry Hennessey of the victors scored 30.

St. Bonaventure tripped Niagara, 54-51.

Titles On Tap Friday
Five important titles will be decided tomorrow night as the season draws to a close in the western section of the state. Some eastern leagues still have another full week of activity ahead.

Haverford, last year's district one champion, will battle Norristown's Eagles in an important battle for the suburban league's section one honors. Each league has a 9-1 record in the fast loop.

Meadville can wrap up its long awaited section two title in district 10 by a conquest of second-place Titusville. The Meadville Bulldogs, winners of 11-straight games for a 16-6 season's mark, already are assured of at least a tie.

The section one title in district 10 depends on the outcome of the Erie Tech-Erie academy tussle. Hickory and Sharpville are tied in section three after Sharpville's 46-36 upset of the defending district champions Tuesday night. Hickory meets Greenville while Sharpville draws Grove City in crucial contests.

Two Class A WPIAL titles remain to be won including section three where Aliquippa and Farrell, two of the state's strongest teams, ended in a tie. Farrell gave the Quips their only loss of the season earlier in the campaign while Farrell has been beaten only by Aliquippa and Johnstown Catholic. The other game sends Crafton against McKees Rocks for the section 12 diadem.

Williamsport, a perennial district four champion, was eliminated Tuesday night by its second loss to Shamokin by a single point—40-39.

Central Penn In Doubt
Two new faces were atop the rock'em-sock'em Central Penn second half race after Tuesday night's 49-43 upset of defending champion York by Harrisburg John Harris.

The co-leading William Penn of Harrisburg with a 3-1 record meets Lancaster (1-3) tonight while Reading, also 3-1, tangles with York (3-2) tomorrow night.

Allentown got over its big hurdle to the second-half title in the East Penn conference Tuesday night by stopping Bethlehem for the second time, 77-61. The vespers-round finales tomorrow night find Allentown at Pottsville and Easton's first-half winners at Bethlehem.

Old Forge avenged an earlier defeat by West Scranton Tuesday night by downing the first-half winners by a 52-49 count. The victory gave the Forgers the lead in the second round of the Lackawanna league. Both teams hit the road Friday. Old Forge is at Dickinson City while West Scranton is at Olyphant.

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Maybe the bookmakers will solve the problem of fixes themselves. A big bookmaker told us he has stopped taking bets on college basketball games. "By next year," he said, "none of the big money commissioners will handle 'em. I got clipped for five grand on one dump and it's not going to happen to me again."

Our informant is a layoff man. In business, he might be called a wholesaler. He doesn't do much business with regular bettors. Most of the wagers he handles are from other bookmakers in different cities. The individual betting money that he does handle, however, is wagered by plungers. Most of the bets he takes are from $500 up, the "up" reaching into five figures. If he gets too much "action" he spreads some of the bets to bookies in other cities.

"Dumps are arranged by punks." said the bookie. "The Hoover Leads in Washington Tribute to Going to Church, Washington, Feb. 23 (AP) — President Hoover led the nation Sunday in celebrating the 194th anniversary of George Washington's birthday by attending services in the church where the first president worshiped.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, and their granddaughter, Peggy Ann, the President journeyed to Alexandria, Virginia, and sat in the pew in Christ's church which was once occupied by George Washington.

John C. Bream New Head of Directors' Body: John C. Bream was elected president of the Adams county school directors' association at the fortieth annual convention at the Gettysburg high school, Friday afternoon. He succeeds D. C. Jacobs.

Other officers chosen include Henry S. Stoner, first vice president; Harry A. Spangler, second vice president; A. T. Bennett, secretary; Harry L. Snyder, treasurer; Clarence E. Wolf, auditor; John W. Black and J. B. Zimmerman, delegates to the state directors' convention and Ralph R. Ruggles and John W. Klunk, alternates.

Among five resolutions adopted by the directors at the closing session the most important was one recommending that after July 1952, the annual teachers' institute of Adams county be discontinued.

As a substitute, the directors suggested that work be given all teachers by the state and liberal arts colleges of the state to the amount of three semester hours per school year. The resolution further states that the districts in which the teachers serve pay $5 per semester hour for the additional college training.

The attendance was 133.

Circus Queen's Brother Once Student at Gettysburg College: As the world mourned the passing of Lillian Leitzel, whom the followers of "the greatest show on earth," the four-ring circus, knew as the queen of the trapeze, persons here recalled that a brother of the famous circus performer once was a student at Gettysburg college.

The alumni records brought the fact to light that G. Fred Leamy, New York, entered Gettysburg college as a special student in 1918 and completed one year's work. His academic standing, according to the college's data, was high.

The student Leamy was identified as the same person as George Fred Pelikan, the surviving brother of Miss Leitzel, and new director of the Civic Art Institute at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Littlestown Couple Wed: Miss Emma J. Hahn and Edwin A. Fisher, both of Littlestown, were married Sunday evening in Redeemer's Reformed church, Littlestown, by the pastor, the Rev. Albert O. Bartholomew. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside in Littlestown.

On the Gettysburg team were Grindler, Abell, Pierce, Klinefelter, Gilbert, Dearborn and Reinecker.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LITERATURE OF THE FACE

There are more unwritten stories, stamped upon the faces of human beings than all those that are en-cased in neatly printed books, with gaudy wrappers to invite their purchase. The plain fact is that realism is a facial quality — writing its own silent biography.

The literature of the face is often far more revealing than the literature of books. Expression need not depend upon the mere weaving together of words. There is an unwritten style of composition in the human face that could well challenge the greatest of stylists in words. Said Thoreau: "It takes two to speak the truth — one to speak and another to hear."

I once spent a long evening with a group of brilliant people. I was merely the silent reporter — with no intention, however, of ever committing that report to print and paper. One was an outstanding woman writer, one a famous humorist, one a vigorous member of Congress, and one a nationally known editor and writer. One of the group remained silent. I listened with rapt attention to all the talk, which shot out like live flames from time to time, but the most interesting of the group was the one who merely looked on and said nothing! His face talked! I seemed to take note of his agreements and disagreements.

As a youth in college there were two faces that fascinated me — Edwin Booth and Daniel Webster. Both dramatic faces, but with the literature of mankind written there. The only thing that I enjoy reading in the lobby of a hotel are the faces of the people there — and what stories I read, unsuspectingly so far as each face is concerned!

Novelists create many a character from what they read in the faces of those with whom they come in contact, and convert it all into literature for publishers to sell. Often one face will furnish the material for a dozen stories! Yet no writer has ever perfectly translated the exact story from any face. There is always something else there.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Prayer."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE GREAT AND HUMBLE
Worse off I'm sure this world would be.

And crueler the blows of fate,
Without the gracious company
Of all who never will be great.

Who'd stop to comfort the bereft
Or help some faltering youth
Along.

If every need of life were left
Entirely to the wise and strong?

Take out the humble heart and mind,
Which give to life the gracious
touch,

To whom then should we look to find
The thoughtful care we need so much?

'Tis simple folk who make the throne,
And choose of life the gentler side.

Who give the aid the great and strong
Are much too busy to provide.

SEES SLASH IN LOCAL OPTIONS

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP) — A temperance leader today predicted "sharp reduction" in local option contests between wets and dries this year if the primary election date is changed.

Dr. O. B. Poulson, legislative director of the Pennsylvania temperance league, made the prediction in reference to a bill which would change the primary date from Sept. 11 to July 24.

The change is proposed in order to give Keystone servicemen and women on duty outside the state a chance to vote by absentee ballot. The bill is now before the Senate for final action.

"There will be very little local option voting this year, if that bill goes through," Dr. Poulson predicted. He added, however, that the league "would be the last group to oppose absentee voting by service people."

Poulson said the number of local options would necessarily be reduced by the limited campaign time under the proposed primary date change. He pointed out that local option petitions must be filed 60 days before the primary date which would be July 24. "That means," he said, "that both dry and wet groups would have only until March 24 to enlist support and file petitions."

Bank Official Is Sought By FBI

Philadelphia, Feb. 22 (AP)—Federal authorities are seeking a suburban Prospect Park bank official on charges of embezzlement.

A warrant for the arrest of Joseph H. Happe, 41, assistant treasurer of the Interboro Bank and Trust Co., of Prospect Park, was issued yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr. Happe has been missing since February 13 when he let his home in nearby Glenolden, presumably on his way to work.

Edward A. Kallick, assistant U. S. attorney, said Happe is wanted on a charge of embezzling $1,108, but that the amount probably "will run higher."

Bank directors said Happe disappeared a week after the State Department of Banking reported that its examiners had found a shortage of $14,943 in the bank's accounts. The federal government intervened because the bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

Bus Terminal Burns With $500,000 Loss

Large, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—Fire fed by gasoline from exploding tanks roared through the Noble J. Dick Bus Lines terminal causing an estimated $500,000 loss. One employee was slightly injured.

Noble J. Dick, owner of the firm, said 39 of his fleet of 52 buses went up in flames last night along with the one-story, block-long brick structure.

The blaze broke out about 8 p.m. and raged out of control for three hours. Ten fire companies were at the scene.

State College, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—President Milton S. Eisenhower today released details of an "emergency plan" designed to allow high school students to enroll at Pennsylvania State college this summer or early in the fall.

OFFERS LOOT TO MAN HE ROBBED

New York, Feb. 22 (AP) — "It's a small world—even in New York," mused Samuel Grove, 26, while being booked on a burglary charge last night.

Police said a man to whom Grove allegedly tried to sell his loot in Harlem was the same man whose apartment he had just robbed in the Bronx.

John Davis, manager of the Harlem Billiard Academy, told police a stranger entered his poolroom with two familiar-looking suitcases and offered to sell some suits. The suits—10 of them—also seemed familiar. Davis ducked out and telephoned his wife.

"We've been burglarized!" she told him. "Your suits are gone and so are your suitcases!"

"I know it," he husband answered. Detectives, who had been summoned to the Davis apartment, sped to the poolroom. Davis meanwhile kept the "salesman" interested by arguing over the price—minimizing the quality of his own suits. Then the detectives arrived.

Heroism, Accident Save Boy's Life

Lake George, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP) — A woman's heroism and an accidental fall saved a five-year-old boy from death yesterday.

Mrs. Alger Mason, 33, plunged through a slit in the ice covering Lake George and rescued Reid Henderson. The boy was unconscious when she pulled him out.

Her father, Arthur Mead, ran toward the Mason house with the boy in his arms. Mead stumbled. The fall, however, apparently dislodged most of the water from Reid's lungs and may have saved his life. Dr. Bernard Selinger said. The boy was revived in 15 minutes by artificial respiration.

Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson, apparently slipped into the water while watching fishermen near his home.

KILLS MASKED MAN IN HOLDUP

Camden, N. J., Feb. 22 (AP)—A 66-year-old grocer told police he shot and killed one of two robbers early today as the man leaned across the counter to shoot him down. The dead man was dragged from the store by his companion, who dropped the body on the doorstep and ran away.

Police were seeking to identify the man who had covered his face with a woman's stocking. Cianci gave police this version of the shooting:

Mrs. Cianci was waiting on a customer when two men, one of them with the stocking mask over his face, walked in. The masked man seized Mrs. Cianci and, without letting go, fired at Cianci as he ran in from the adjoining apartment and sought to grab a pistol hidden in a drawer. The robber shot, fired from only eight feet away, missed and Cianci grabbed his own gun and hid behind a counter. A moment later the masked robber leaned over the counter to shoot again and Cianci fired what he said was the first shot from the gun in the 20 years he had owned it.

The bullet struck the masked man under the chin and he toppled backward, was dragged to the doorway by his companion who dropped him there and ran away.

Ralph Cianci, son of the store owner, said the robbers did not get the money, about $100, in the cash drawer.

ACCUSE PROF OF BEING RED

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—An assistant chemistry professor, charged with concealing Communist party membership in filling out an atomic research questionnaire, awaited formal arrest today and predicted he would be vindicated.

Richard N. Lewis, a faculty member of the University of Delaware and a former employee of the General Electric company in Schenectady, N. Y., was expected to be taken into custody today at his home in Newark, Del.

The U. S. marshal at Wilmington, Del., was waiting for arrival of a warrant for the arrest.

Lewis, 34, was indicted by a federal grand jury in Albany yesterday. He was accused of making a "false, fictitious and fraudulent statement" on a personal security questionnaire form of the atomic energy commission, while working for General Electric.

Denied Being Red
Lewis was not assigned to atomic work, GE said.

Lewis said: "This action comes as quite a surprise as I always have had the interest of my country at heart. My actions are completely explainable and I believe that when the facts are known I shall be vindicated."

The indictment alleged that Lewis, alias Richard N. La Salle, "failed to reveal and state" that the defendant had held membership in the Communist party, U. S. A., during and between the years of 1938 and 1942.

From 1938 to 1942, the FBI said, Lewis was at California Institute of Technology as a teaching assistant and doing research. He worked at the General Electric Research laboratory in Schenectady from 1942 to 1948.

Farmer-Pilot Is Fined As Reckless

Carrville, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—A farmer-pilot, Abe S. Holtry, 24, of nearby Shippensburg started serving a 10-day jail term on a charge of reckless flying.

John Coffey, Shippensburg justice of the peace, sentenced Holtry to the Cumberland county jail after a hearing yesterday on charges filed by Edward Fagnani, state police aeronautical investigator.

Sgt. Walter Durkoff, of the state police, said Holtry was arrested after residents of Cleversburg complained the farmer-pilot intermittently flew his light plane close to house-tops.

CATCH MOOSE IN BOAT

Corner Brook, Newfoundland, Feb. 22 (AP)—Up in these northern parts they use ship and lariat to get a moose. A crew member of the motor vessel Trepassy spotted a 400-pounder floundering in thin ice in Humber Arm channel. The ship's captain brought his ship alongside and one swing of the lariat bagged her. The moose rode here in the Trepassy's hold, was transferred to a truck, and turned loose a few miles inland.

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Permission to build an underground gas storage area in the Herbron field of Potter county, Pennsylvania, is being sought from the Federal Power Commission.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., of Houston, Texas, and United Natural Gas Co., of Oil City, Pa., told the FPC yesterday they plan to build 70 wells and about 89,530 feet of pipeline at an estimated cost of $7,757,200. They said the area would be able to store 22,500,000 cu. ft. of gas and deliver at least 225,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Alien Is Working In White House

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—The White House has confirmed that an alien—a pretty, 41-year-old Australian—is secretary to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, army aide to President Truman.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen Tuesday Mrs. Frances Veronica Jolly joined the White House secretarial staff last December 1. Short called reporters to the White House to discuss brunette Mrs. Jolly's status after references to her in the "Cholly Knickerbocker" column of the New York Journal-American. The column said Monday that "a former Australian who got her United States citizenship in no time at all" had set the capital "buzzing."

Short said Mrs. Jolly had been secretary to a long succession of United States Generals in the Pacific during World War Two and that she became a permanent resident of the United States under special legislation passed by Congress last year despite Justice Department disapproval. She is now a $4,690-a-year civilian employee of the army.

The New York column said there was whispering at the White House about "Harry Vaughn's beautiful private secretary who was rushed into American citizenship and is now firmly established in the White House."

Hamilton Voices Stand Against TV

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Tom Hamilton, athletic director of the University of Pittsburgh, says television is taking too large a bite out of big-time football's gate receipts.

"Unless game television is put on a paying basis for the school instead of being a deficit," asserts Hamilton, "we're going to have to keep away from it or ruin 50 years of progress in the country's physical education program for youngsters."

Hamilton, chairman of the N.C.A.A. television committee, points out that most of the college athletic programs and physical training set-ups are financed from football receipts.

The N.C.A.A. already has declared a moratorium on colleges contracting for live telecasts of football games.

It feels the public should share in the expense of telecasting top-flight college sports events.

Bill Offers Free Insurance To GIs

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Senate leaders hoped to win quick approval today of a bill to give $10,000 worth of cost-free government insurance to every person in the armed services.

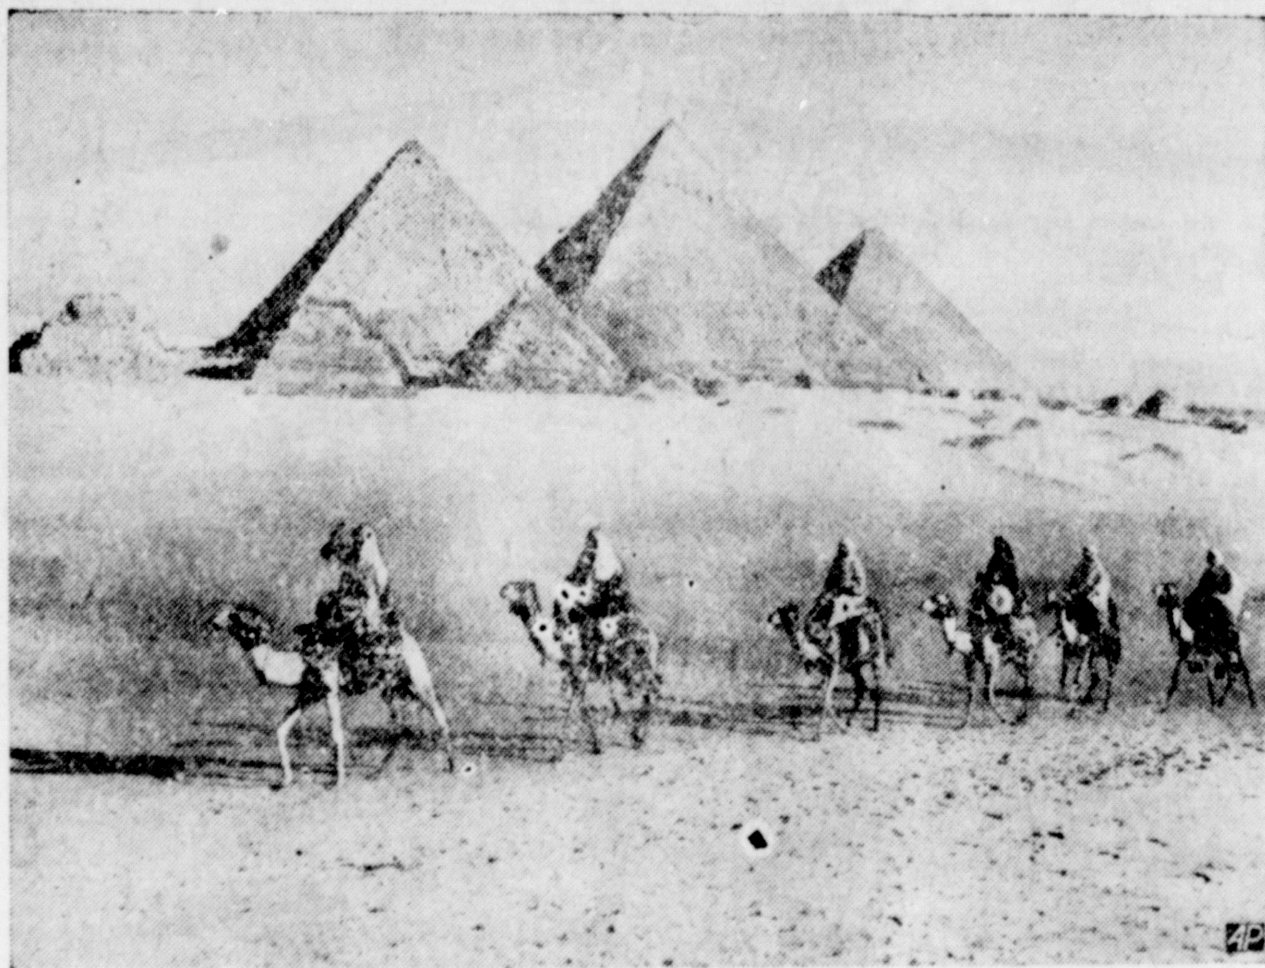

A similar bill was passed last month by the House.

In the past most persons in the armed services have been required to pay premiums to get government insurance.

Both the Senate and House bills would assure a payment of $10,000 on all deaths since the Korean war started, without payment of premiums. The free insurance, however, could not be converted when a man left the service. That is permissible under the present system.

TO BUILD NEW BARN

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—The General State Authority today called for bids on March 21 for construction of livestock and dairy barns at Pennsylvania State college. The plans provide for the construction of eight new units, including an administration building. At present, the college has only one dairy barn.

MORE FACTS ABOUT HOTBEDS

Several readers who are planning vegetable gardens this year have written the editor lately for more details about using corn stalks for heating hotbeds where horse manure is not available. Obviously there is an increasing scarcity of suitable manure even in major farming regions since the machine age has all but driven Old Dobbin into extinction. Other media of heating plant beds are therefore urgent.

Four facts should be emphasized in building and operating a hotbed heated by corn stalks. First, the stalks should be sound and not unduly exposed to weather. The best grade is obtained where corn fodder is fed to livestock indoors and the stalks later stored expressly for this purpose. Even stalks gathered from the feedlot will serve, providing that they are gathered and stored before they are tramped into the snow and mud.

Second, fine shredding is necessary. Village or other urban gardeners who do not have access to silage cutters may with a little extra time and labor cut stalks by hand. A solid chopping block (a log will serve) and a sharp axe or heavy hatchet or knife are the only equipment needed. The stalks should be cut into 1-inch or slightly shorter lengths.

Third, the shredded material should be uniformly moistened as it is tramped firmly into the bed in thin layers until the total depth is 16 to 18 inches or more. Excessive wetness must be avoided, likewise lack of sufficient moisture to promote fermentation should be guarded against. The importance of fine shredding, uniform moistening, and firm tramping lies mainly in the fact that all three steps are necessary to start and maintain the heat-creating process of fermentation.

And last, the bed should be carefully constructed to prevent inside heat from escaping and outside cold from entering. This goal calls for snugly fitting sash and the careful banking of the portion of the frame that extends above the ground level.

As supplies of horse and mule manure decrease year after year, gardeners must explore this and other means of heating plant beds. Of course, heating by electricity remains one of the most reliable means. And too, in regions where electric rates are not excessively high, this type of bed serves with remarkable efficiency. Even unusually cold spells may come and be met with comparative safety where tender plants are warmed by properly installed electric heating cables.

Gardeners who heat their dwellings with hot-water furnaces may easily and with modest cost extend the water line to a handy hotbed. Buried in the soil and fitted with a cut-off or control valve, hot-water pipes furnish an ideal type of heat. Of course, buried pipes between the furnace room and bed should be properly insulated to prevent undue loss of heat.

More and more should home gardeners and farmers utilize hotbeds to lengthen the normal growing season. Gardening time represents actual food. A few weeks gained by wise use of hotbeds and coldframes to start plants earlier and to grow crops later in the fall are translated directly into bushels and pounds of additional food. And despite the rapid theories of fuzzy-minded economists and academicians who continually rant about the dangers of surplus food production, we in the United States have not known the blessing of self-sufficiency since 1924.

There is still room for truth and efficiency.

PRIMARY STEPS WITH CABBAGE

Cabbage is one of the main vegetables around which the home garden is planned and built. No only is cabbage utilized raw in salads, thereby supplying valuable vitamins and minerals to the family diet, but the extra early crop finds a ready market in nearby urban centers and at properly managed roadside stands. The time is here when progressive gardeners should start their 1951 cabbage crop.

Like most other members of the crucifer group of vegetables, cabbage is not injured by light frosts. Therefore, plants may be set out quite early, at least several weeks before the last nipping frost is expected. Of course, it is advisable to afford these early plants protection with plant caps or other temporary covers if unusually cold snaps arrive after they are moved to their growing place.

Seed for the extra early crop should be sown in a window box, snug coldframe or hotbed in late January or early February. After leaves open, the seedlings should be pricked out and shifted to individual clay pots, plant bands or other suitable containers. There are several types of such receptacles on the market, some of them made of various vegetable matter which permits final transplanting pot and all. Or gardeners may make their own bands from tin cans, fruit baskets or other makeshift materials.

Two distinct advantages are gained from growing early cabbage plants in individual containers. First, plants enjoy sufficient room to develop low, sturdy tops. Next, final transplanting eliminates the necessity of tearing the plants out to stand stunted for at least a week to ten days after transplanting. The two merits together add up to at least 15 to 30 days of time gained in cabbage edible size.

Sterilization of seedbed soil and disinfection of seed are necessary steps to control such common cabbage diseases as blackfoot (black-leg) and black-rot.

Yellows, a spreading disease of cabbage which often results in complete ruin of the crop, cannot be prevented by ordinary cultural precautions. The only safe way to meet this menace in regions where the trouble has already appeared is to grow one or more of the resistant varieties. Emphasis should be placed on this fact now, not after the disease appears. Of course, moving cabbage to new locations each year will greatly reduce dangers of yellows and other soil-borne troubles.

Cabbage demands a deeply mellow, alkaline, well drained loam. A liberal supply of organic matter is recognized as an important factor in successful growth. In most cases well rotted manure turned under fairly deep improves most garden soils for this vegetable. Too, commercial fertilizer supplies additional nutrients needed for rapid growth and high quality heads. A 6-8-6 mixture worked into the growing site at the rate of 600 to 800 pounds per acre before plants are set out is recommended for average types of soil. One or two side dressings with nitrogenous fertilizer after transplanting will usually hasten growth considerably.

Every gardener should write the editor, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, for a free copy of our condensed cabbage growing instructions. This explains all the necessary steps in preventing diseases and controlling insect enemies. Of course, all related questions are invited.

TIMELY NOTES ABOUT LETTUCE

Lettuce is one of the most healthful vegetables grown in the home garden. Being what is known as a cool-weather crop, lettuce should be stressed in the extra early and late gardens, with successive sowings made in mid-summer to afford a continuing supply from spring until early winter. In fact, as far north as northern Pennsylvania the editor has reports from gardeners who enjoy home-grown lettuce every month in the year. Steps to fuller benefits from this crop are simple and inexpensive.

Two facts must be emphasized about earliness. Seed for head lettuce should be sown under glass in early February and plants kept thriving until soil can be worked sufficiently to permit transplanting to their growing site. So important is the matter of earliness to permit heading varieties to attain edible size before hot weather arrives that plants must be in their growing place even before freezing weather is past.

Next, home gardeners should sow leaf lettuce in late January or early February in a sunny coldframe. By late February or early March leafing sorts may be sown in a sheltered bed under muslin cover. By early April it is safe to make sowing in sunny beds in the open, thereby providing a succession of beds coming into edible production. If the larger leaves are carefully cut for use, additional tender leaves will usually appear.

Seldom can the local or small gardener compete successfully in urban markets with commercial growers of head lettuce. Thus, lettuce may wisely occupy distinctly a grow-for-table use role. And because of this fact, leaf varieties usually serve satisfactorily. Too, leaf sorts contain more of the valuable vitamins A and C than do heading varieties, and they are grown in less time and with considerably less labor.

Lettuce likes a mellow loam, plenty of available nourishment, and good drainage. Too, the soil should be safely alkaline. Well composted and finely pulverized manure is beneficial, worked uniformly through the soil before seeding time. Perhaps a 6-8-6 fertilizer is about the proper balance for general use. If growth is slow at any stage, particularly with head lettuce after

139 New Cases Of Influenza In Day

Philadelphia, Feb. 22 (AP)—Respiratory ailments allied to influenza reached what may be a single-day record of 139 new cases yesterday, Dr. Rufus S. Reeves, director of health, says. In addition, 420 inmates and a number of guards in three county and city prisons were reported ill.

Two deaths were reported, bringing to eight the number of fatalities since Jan. 1. There have been a total of 415 cases of respiratory ailments in that time.

Dr. Reeves said yesterday's figure may break all single day records since the influenza epidemic of 1918.

transplanting, watering the plants with a weak nitrogen solution is helpful. For this purpose 1 ounce of nitrate of soda to 6 or 7 gallons of water is sufficient, the water applied along the row so the foliage is not wet. Too much nitrogen, however, may cause excessive succulent growth.

Leaf lettuce, if grown in fairly fertile loam, seldom needs any additional fertilizer, although a watering with a weak nitrogen solution, as described above, will hasten growth. This should be applied with a long-spouted watering can so the leaves are not excessively moistened.

Green aphids are the chief insect pests of lettuce. They should be killed off as soon as the first members arrive. Nicotine sulfate as a spray in soapy water is effective. Or a fresh nicotine dust may be used, applied on a still day when the temperature is above 70 degrees F.

Because leaf lettuce comes into bearing so soon and can be eaten at so early an age, plant diseases rarely are troublesome. High quality (fresh) seed is important. It is seldom advisable to grow seed in the home garden.

The editor invites all related questions.

Emmitsburg INSPECT TREES, FIND MANY IN BAD CONDITION

Mayor Thornton Rodgers announced that an inspection of trees in Emmitsburg has been made by a state official and himself and a large number found needing trimming. Some trees should be removed because they are in a dangerous condition, he said. The town is securing a general permit to trim and remove necessary trees, and a local workman has been approved by the state authorities to do the work. Mr. Rodgers pointed out that this would help individual residents who are required by law to get a permit before trees can be trimmed or removed and the work will be done at a minimum of expense to all. Residents desiring this work done should report it to the town authorities.

covered. But no major contact with the Reds was reported.

The greatest obstacle to the Allied troops of five nations was the weather.

They were plagued by rain, snow, fog, mud, washed-out bridges, raging streams and landslides. Such conditions virtually ruled out close aerial support at the outset. But U. S. Air Force, Marine, Navy, Australian and South African warplanes roared through holes in the clouds Thursday to plaster Red targets.

Teamed up in the new hunter-killer drive were American, British, Australian, New Zealand and South Korean troops. They moved up behind tanks, self-propelled guns, weapons carriers and jeeps.

The rugged front extends in an arc from a point near Yangpyong, 17 miles east-southeast of Seoul, to Pyongchang, on the east-central sector. Wonju, 25 miles west of Pyongchang, is roughly in the center of the kick-off point.

Fresh Troops Arrive
The biggest Communist force was dug in in the lofty mountains about six miles north of Wonju. Red soldiers south of those positions rushed for cover after brief delaying actions.

A senior staff officer said fresh Chinese Reds of the 196th Division with 10,000 men and other Chinese units were in the Hoengsong area. He said the Chinese had orders to hold the town at all costs.

Hoengsong fell to the Chinese in their recent attempt to sweep down the middle of the peninsula to the key mountain passes below Wonju. But the Allies cracked that drive wide open with devastating fire power that killed thousands of Reds.

Fredrick Big Battle
AP Correspondent Stan Swinton said it appeared another big battle was in the offing for Hoengsong. Its outcome could materially affect the whole war, he surmised.

At Eighth Army headquarters, AP Correspondent William J. Waugh reported the Allied forces are applying a pinners on Hoengsong from the west and south. By nightfall Wednesday, a South Korean spearhead had rolled more than eight miles to within six miles of the town. An American force was five miles to the south.

On the west-central front, U. S. infantrymen pushed two miles north and northeast of Chipyong, 22 miles northwest of Wonju. A British force advanced 3 1/2 miles to a point five miles southeast of Chipyong.

On the east-central front, Americans and South Koreans punched 5 1/2 miles against Korean Reds northeast of Chuchon and were five road miles southwest of Pyongchang Wednesday night.

Chuchon, erstwhile Communist stronghold, was captured by an American division Tuesday.

There had been rumors that he was being stripped of some of his authority. They prompted General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to comment recently in Washington that MacArthur still was running the Korean military show.

Today's first of the new MacArthur series announced progress of a two-day-old offensive in central Korea. Tuesday MacArthur visited that front at Wonju. He wrote out instructions then for Allied troops to "resume the initiative." That caused some apparent repercussions among Eighth Army officers.

Censoring officers tried to eliminate the phrase from interpretive stories. But they eventually were cleared in Tokyo. The implication of the incident was that Eighth Army officers resented MacArthur's verbal assumption of command for a limited offensive. Some said the drive actually had begun the day before MacArthur visited the front.

TEXAN CARVES STONE OF SCONE REPLACEMENT

Goldthwaite, Texas, Feb. 22 (AP)—A tobacco-chewing Texas monument maker is chipping out a replacement for Britain's missing stone of scone just because he's friendly.

As stocky E. B. Adams of Goldthwaite wrote the British ambassador:

"We are well aware that there can be no recompense for the sentimental value of the symbol. But we do feel that our proposal also will result in a gift that will carry its own sentiment—the expression of friendship between your people and our people."

The stone of scone, ancient symbol of the British kings, was ripped from its place under the coronation chair in London's Westminster Abbey and spirited away last Christmas day. Scotland yard believes Scottish Nationalists stole the stone, which was taken from Scotland by England's King Edward I.

Accepts Suggestion

One day Adams, a round-faced, tanned grandfather who looked about 45, was walking down the street in his khaki work clothes and battered hat. Harry Allen, a tinsmith in this small central Texas town, stopped him in front of the postoffice.

"You're always talking about being friendly to the people of other countries," said Allen. "Why don't you make a stone of scone for the people of England?"

"Well, I will," said Adams, who is of English-Irish ancestry.

But he remembered having heard something about a law that private citizens can't communicate with heads of foreign states.

"Who do I write to about this?" He asked H. R. Ekins, editor and publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle.

"You'd better write to the State Department," Ekins said.

Adams learned that his gesture doesn't come under the Logan act, the law he had been worrying about. The State Department suggested that Adams might want to get advice from Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to the United States.

Adams hunted until he found just the right kind of sandstone. He rounded up magazine pictures showing details of the original stone of scone. And he wrote his letter to Ambassador Franks, closing: "I will appreciate your advice as to how the presentation should be made."

Now he's chiseling away at the new stone of scone and awaiting his reply.

Wants Railroad Profits Impounded

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—A railway labor leader proposed today the government impound the profits of the railroads while they are under federal control.

Roy O. Hughes, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, told the Senate Labor committee his union believes that such action would spur a settlement of the two-year-old dispute between the carriers and railway workers.

Hughes made his proposal at the opening of the committee's inquiry into the controversy. His group is one of four operating unions involved.

Among other things, the committee wants to find out whether there is need for changing the railway labor act which provides machinery for mediation of rail labor disputes.

Margiotti Leaves Way Open To Quit

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti left the way open today for his resignation soon—if it would break the senate deadlock over confirmation of Governor Pine's cabinet.

He denied, however, a report that he would resign before noon today. Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, said yesterday he had learned the attorney general would resign "within 24 hours."

Margiotti held a news conference last night after an hour-long conference with Gov. John S. Pine. Both he and Pine were non-committal concerning the exact date of Margiotti's expected resignation.

King And Queen To Meet 600 Tonight

London, Feb. 22 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will meet nearly 600 embassy and legation folks—126 of them Americans—at the season's first royal presentation party in the lush state rooms of Buckingham palace tonight.

The guests, in full military or civilian evening regalia, will file before the crowned heads from 9:30 p.m. on and then will make for food-pyramided buffet tables in the king's gilded supper room.

Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret may be present after the formal presentation ceremony as the king and queen stroll among their guests, a palace spokesman said.

The state apartments, among the most ornate and beautiful in the sovereign's 600-room London home, were recently refurbished. Tonight's lightly-clad women guests will probably bless the rejuvenated heating system.

Stock Exchange Blasts Tax Plan

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Spokesmen for the New York Stock Exchange and Cotton exchange blasted today at the administration's proposal to stiffen the capital gains tax.

Some members of the house ways and means committee who heard their testimony joined in criticism of the proposal to raise the effective rate from 25 to 37½ per cent and lengthen the minimum "long term" holding period from six months to one year.

The capital gains tax now applies to profits from the sale of stocks, bonds, real estate and other property held for six months or longer. Profits on capital held for a shorter period are subject to the regular income tax rates.

Robert P. Boylan, chairman of the board of governors of the New York stock exchange, said that lengthening the holding period would contribute to inflation "by preventing a free and open market in securities and commodities."

Formosa Expects Attack By Reds

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 22 (AP)—Air raid tests were held throughout northern Formosa today.

Chinese Nationalists predict Chinese Communists will attack this island when weather is favorable.

The thunder of antiaircraft guns gave realism to the practice in the port area of Keelung. Nationalist troops engaged in mock warfare with theoretical paratroops. People fled from the streets in this capital city when the first warning sounded.

The cabinet issued fresh orders for building air raid shelters and water reservoirs. It made plans to remove supplies from city to countryside and again urged all non-essential residents of Taipei to move out.

The only commercially important emerald mines in the western hemisphere are on Columbia.

three months. On his way back to the seat of government, then at Philadelphia, he travelled into Pennsylvania toward the City of Brotherly Love. The night of July 1 he reached Taneytown and remained there over night. Next day, Washington entered Adams county, although it was then a part of York county. He took an early start on the morning of July 2 from Taneytown, passing through Littlestown and on to Hanover where he breakfasted after which he concluded his journey and arrived at York at 2 p.m. and reached Philadelphia July 6.

Pleased With What He Saw

Mr. Sheads then quoted from Washington's diary entries that recorded his impressions of the section of what was to become Adams county that he had seen on the trip. "The country from Taneytown to York," he wrote, "is exceedingly pleasant, thickly inhabited and much improved. The dwelling houses, barns and meadows being good."

"His coachman had become ill at Taneytown and President Washington decided to do the driving himself, taking a position at the front of the coach which gave him an opportunity of seeing the country to the best advantage.

"George Washington's second trip took him through the heart of what is now Adams county," Mr. Sheads continued as he quoted from The Gettysburg Compiler of March 9, 1904. He said the first president was returning from a trip to western Pennsylvania to review and direct troops assembled to put down the Whiskey rebellion in 1794. He came here from Chambersburg, over the mountains through Hilltown, Muncasburg and on through Hantertown, New Oxford and Abbottstown until he reached Wright's Ferry.

Stories Handed Down

"Several traditions of this journey survive here. One is that told by Thomas Craig, a negro who lived above Cashtown and who at his death had reached the great age of 104. He told Henry J. Stahl (former editor of the Compiler) that he saw Washington pass along what was known as the old Philadelphia road and that Washington rode in a great carriage guarded by a troop of cavalrymen.

"Then it was handed down that George Washington took meals and stayed overnight at the old stone house at the junction of the Arendtsville road with the old Shippensburg road, for many years owned by John Carey, but in Washington's time it was an old tavern run by one Russell. . . . Next day he continued his journey and there was a stop at New Oxford either for a meal or to rest the horses. Wright's Ferry was reached that night and Philadelphia by the end of the month."

Quiz Tonight

Mr. Sheads pointed out that the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1938 placed a marker at the old Russell tavern and a nearby highway marker recording Washington's visit.

"There have been those who have contended that this journey in 1794 is more traditional than factual. It is said that both the late Henry J. Stahl and the late Edward McPherson were convinced of the truth not only of the journey but of many of the stories told about it. It has been more recently declared that entries made by Washington in his diary established as fact the journey described above."

This evening Mr. Sheads will conduct a quiz on Washington in his second historical broadcast of the week. He is on WGET each Wednesday and Thursday evening at 6:45 o'clock on a program sponsored by the First National bank.

Cutbacks Haven't Hit Auto Output

Detroit, Feb. 22 (AP)—Production cutbacks have not yet hit the auto industry. The factories this week will build 178,196 vehicles, Automotive News estimated today. Included in the total will be 146,139 cars and 32,057 trucks.

"It will be the most cars and trucks turned out in any week so far this year," the trade paper said, "and compares well with some of the best weekly totals obtained in last year's record-breaking production performance."

Last week United States output totaled 138,087 cars and 31,163 trucks.

"The 20 per cent cut in the auto industry's use of steel," Automotive News added, "will probably result in car production leveling off to slightly more than 400,000 a month in the future. Truck production is not likely to be greatly affected."

Dutchess Submits To Operation Today

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor will undergo an operation today in the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

The nature of the operation was not revealed but hospital authorities said it was not serious.

It will be performed by Dr. Henry Wisdom Cave, president of the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Benjamin P. Watson, fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh, a gynecologist, will be in attendance.

Would Give Air Top Priorities

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ennis Whitehead, air defense commander, told senators today a long range striking air force should be given top priority on building defenses for this country.

Second priority, he said, would go to a defensive air force capable of (A) preventing American long range bombers from being destroyed at their bases and (B) protecting the industrial might of the nation.

Whitehead, whose headquarters are at Colorado Springs, Colo., (CQ) gave his views to a joint Senate group considering the troops-to-Europe issue.

He appeared as the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Forces committees prepared to wind up military testimony on the controversy. The groups plan to call top Republican leaders next for testimony that may have repercussions in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Whitehead declined to be drawn out on whether or not troops should be sent to Europe under the North Atlantic Pact. The joint chiefs of staff have recommended sending four divisions in addition to the two already there. Whitehead said he has confidence in the judgement of the joint chiefs, but was not familiar in detail with their recommendations.

Clarifies Plans On Calling Guardsmen

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—The army plans to call up more National Guard and organized reserve units of company and battalion size but doesn't expect to take additional guard divisions unless the world crises takes a turn for the worse.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor announced the plans at a news conference yesterday. He said he wanted to "clarify" a previous announcement that the army did not intend to call more guard divisions. Taylor declined to say how many more units of less than division size will be called under current plans.

Painting Of Scalping Scene Is Restored

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—The painting of an Indian scalping a white man has been returned to its old place on the wall of the House Interior Affairs committee room.

Former Rep. Peterson (D-Fla.) had it taken down last year after Charley Grounds, a Seminole Indian attorney from Oklahoma, protested it was in bad taste and offended every Indian who entered the room.

Rep. Murdock (D-Ariz.) the new committee chairman, had it put back. It was one of a set painted by Maj. Gen. S. Richardson nearly a century ago. Murdock told a reporter, and he thought they should all be hung together.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—The American Professional Basketball league was down to six clubs today after withdrawal of the Wilkes-Barre Barons. The Barons' management notified President John J. O'Brien last night that the club was being withdrawn following a demand from Scranton that a $1,500 good faith bond be posted before Scranton's Miners appeared here next Wednesday.

DECIDE IKE IS "BEST DRESSED"

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the best dressed man in America—in or out of uniform—a clothiers group declared today.

That was the consensus at the 33rd annual convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, President Robert D. Underwood, of Richmond, Va., said.

The convention's list of the "ten best dressed men in America" also included: Comedian Bob Hope, New York city Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy, Ed Herlihy, radio and television master of ceremonies; Phil Rizzuto, of the New York baseball Yankees; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, wealthy sportsman; Dan Seymour, television producer and master of ceremonies; actor Gregory Peck, Edward Fields, carpet manufacturer, and comedian Jan Murray.

Gen. Eisenhower, the announcement said, was chosen for his "typical American look — always neat, never flashy." He received more first places than all the other candidates for honors combined. Bob Hope scored with "his outstanding combinations of suits, shirts and ties."

Rizzuto "is the outstanding dresser in the sporting world, looking well dressed even when sliding

TALIN NOT HOLDING OUT OLIVE BRANCH

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The full significance of Premier Stalin's foreign policy statement remains obscure, but the consensus among western nations is that the Soviet leader isn't holding out an olive branch to the democracies. That is to say, his pronouncement of propaganda calculated to bolster Communist cause. About the only point of agreement western leaders find with the Bolshevik minister is his statement; that it is not yet inevitable.

Keeps Stocks High
Naturally speculation has produced numerous ideas of what Stalin

the cathartic habit

Too many people are influenced by stories concerning "intestinal cleanliness" or "stimulating the flow of bile." Many cases of simple constipation do not require a laxative at all, but only a minor change in diet and habit.

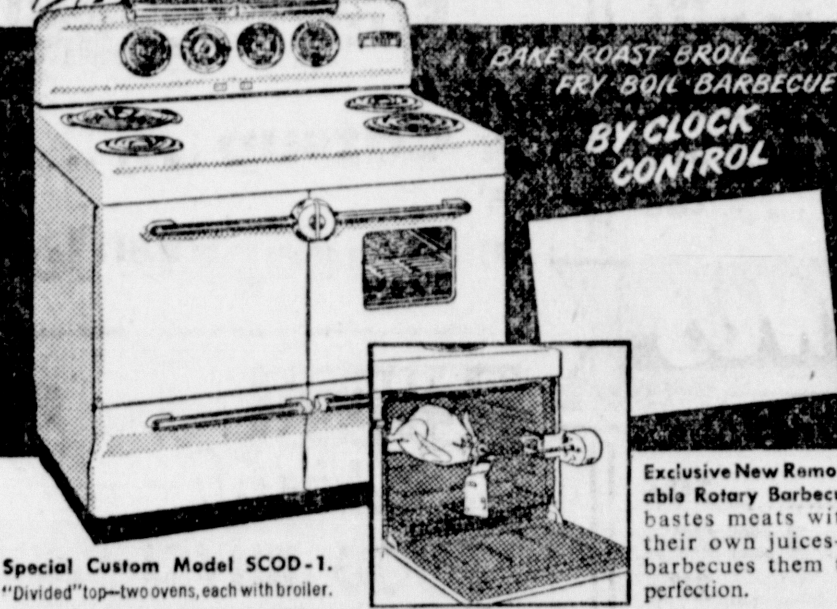

The habitual use of cathartics is dangerous. Such misuse is often followed by chronic ill health. Strong laxatives are particularly dangerous when taken to relieve abdominal distress. The source of the pain should always be accurately determined by your physician. The safe procedure is to consult him. If a laxative is needed, he will prescribe a safe preparation with proper instructions for dosage. Then bring your prescription to us for expert compounding.

ADVICE HELPS HUSBAND, WIFE ON INCOME TAX

(Editor's note: This is the seventh of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about filing his 1950 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Here's some help for married couples in choosing the right form for their 1950 income tax return.

They have two big problems: A joint or separate return? And what form to get the best deductions? Some of the following points have been mentioned in previous stories but are rounded up here.

There are 3 forms: Form 1040-A (the collector figures your tax for you); the 1040 short form (you find your own tax in the table on page 4); and the 1040 long form (figure your own tax on page 3).

Only people with under $5,000 income can use form 1040-A or the 1040 short form. Those who can't use form 1040-A can use the 1040 short form.

The under-$5,000 people can also use the long form if their deductions are unusually large. But the people with $5,000 or more income have no choice. They must use the 1040 long form.

You can use form 1040-A only if your total income was under $5,000 and all of it—except for no more than $100 in untaxed wages, interest and dividends—was in wages or salary from which full tax was withheld.

Form For Showing Rents

If any of your untaxed income was from any other source except those three mentioned—for instance, if it was from rents—you couldn't use form 1040-A. You could use the 1040 short form.

Example: Jones had $3,500 income, his wife $1,000. Total $4,500. All of it, except for $100 in interest, had tax withheld from it. They can file a joint return on form 1040-A. Or, if they wish, on the 1040 short form.

Example: Smith had $3,500 income, his wife $1,000. Total $4,500. All of it except for $101 in interest, had tax withheld from it. They can file a joint return on the 1040 short form, to get the split-income benefit. But they can't file jointly on form 1040-A.

Say that full tax had been withheld from Smith's $3,500 while the $101 in untaxed interest was part of Mrs. Smith's income. He could file separately on form 1040-A but she'd have to file separately on the 1040 short form. When they file separately like that they lose the benefit of splitting their income.

As for the 1040 short-form—any married couple who had combined income under $5,000 but for some reason can't use form 1040-A can use the 1040 short form.

Standard Deduction

Any couple filing on form 1040-A or the 1040 short form get a standard deduction of about 10 per cent of their income for personal expenses. They don't have to itemize it or even claim it. They're given it. It's already allowed for in the tax table used in figuring the tax on people using those two forms.

Most people's deductible expenses are actually less than 10 per cent of their income. But if you were really more than 10 per cent, you'd lose money by using the 1040 short form or 1040-A.

Instead, use the 1040 long form. There you'll have to go to the trouble, which isn't much, of figuring your own tax. And—you'll have to itemize every deduction you claim. But you then can claim your deductions in full. That's the only way you can claim them.

But suppose husband and wife had combined income under $5,000. And say one of them had deductible expenses that ran above 10 per cent, while the other didn't. How do they file?

If one partner in a marriage, where combined income was under $5,000, wants to claim more than the standard 10 per cent deduction, he or she must do so on the long form. In such a case, can the other partner in the marriage use form 1040-A or the 1040 short form? No. When one uses the 1040 long form and itemizes, the other must use the 1040 long form and itemize, too.

If you're in a spot like this, it may be worth your while to figure your tax both ways—on long and short form—to see whether you come out ahead in using the long form. You can see why:

When one partner has more than 10 per cent in deductions and the other has much less—but the latter has to itemize and can't come close to 10 per cent in deductions—the couple may lose money on the deal. Couples whose individual incomes are under $5,000 but, combined, are over that figure—

If this applies to you, then you can file separately on form 1040-A (if you fit the rule for it) or separately on the 1040 short form, or you can file a joint return on the 1040 long form.

Any couple with combined income of $5,000 or more and using the 1040 long form, gets a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their combined income up to a maximum deduction of $1,000. If their deductions were more than 10 per cent, they must itemize all their deductions but can claim them in full.

Example: Jones had $4,000 income, his wife $2,000. If they file jointly on the 1040 long form their deduction is $600, or 10 per cent of $6,000.

Example: Smith had $10,000 income, his wife had $2,000. Total $12,000. They file jointly on the 1040 long form. Since the standard maximum deduction is $1,000, that's all they get unless their deductions were more than that and they itemize.

Save Money Jointly

Any time one partner in a marriage files separately on the 1040 long form, he gets a maximum standard deduction of $500. That's another reason why, in most cases, couples save money filing jointly.

Example: Jones had $10,000 income, his wife none. Since she had no income, his wife isn't compelled to file a return although she can file jointly with her husband, if she wants to.

So say that in this case Jones alone files a return, on the 1040 long form. Even though his income was $10,000 he gets only a standard deduction of $500. But if his wife filed jointly with him, he'd get the standard maximum deduction of $1,000.

(The rule is different with single people whose income was $5,000 or more and who use the 1040 long form. Without exception, they get a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a maximum deduction of $1,000.)

JOHNS HOPKINS ANNOUNCES NEW EDUCATION PLAN

Baltimore, Feb. 22 (AP)—Johns Hopkins university announced today it is doing away with its regular four-year undergraduate program. In its place will be a liberal, go-as-you-learn plan with no restrictions on time, scope or specific study.

"We propose to make this a university in which the sharp distinctions between undergraduates and graduates will be eliminated," said Dr. Dudley W. Bronk, Hopkins president.

Dr. Bronk's disclosure came in a statement prepared for delivery at ceremonies observing the 75th anniversary of the university's founding. He set the transition period at from five to six years.

The president also reported the start of a drive for $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 to finance the change-over, add new facilities and increase the endowment. He estimated the immediate transition period would cost approximately $6,000,000.

Under the new plan, a beginning student would confer with university officials concerning the direction his interests lie, and a program of work would be decided upon. Required courses of study normally outlined in undergraduate work would be abolished.

Although there would be no pressure exerted whatsoever to speed a student along, one university official explained, there would be an opportunity for those desiring to go as fast as they wished. The "smart ones," he estimated, could finish work for a master's degree in about four years, presently the normal time for earning a bachelor's degree.

IS 102 TODAY

Santa Ana, Calif., Feb. 22 (AP)—Today also is the birthday of Mrs. Nancy Jones. And following her custom of trying to make as many friends as there are years in her life, she will seek 102 new friends this year. Her longevity recipe: "A good sense of humor."

Littlestown PRESIDENT OF STATE JAYCEES GIVES PLAQUE

H. Vernon Ferster, Hanover, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was present at the semi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening in the banquet hall of Schottie's hotel, to present the plaque for receiving the state award for the month of June. The project was the music festival, which was an outstanding accomplishment for raising funds for Littlestown Memorial field. The amount of money raised through the project was $1,832.08. The plaque is now on display at Marvin's Cut Rate store on South Queen street.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Ralph R. Ruggles, Jr. A net profit of $124.55 was reported as received from the basketball played between the Jaycees and the faculty of the Littlestown junior-senior high school on the high school court Saturday, February 10. The game was for the benefit of the senior high school band uniform fund, which was started by the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity.

The following were initiated into the organization as new members at the Monday evening by State President Ferster, Robert V. Weaver, Lavere A. Breighner, Clyde W. Crouse and James L. Rhoades. The date for the public roller skating party to be sponsored by the Jaycees was set for Friday, March 30 from 8 to 11 p.m. to be held at Basehoar's restaurant, North Queen street. Harold O. Sentz is chairman of the skating committee. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Jaycees or at Marvin's Cut Rate store. The group decided to hold a bake sale sometime in March. The following were appointed as an arrangements committee, John J. Way, chairman, Ivan Kindig and J. Robert Sell.

A dinner meeting for the members, their wives and other guests will be held in connection with the installation of the officers of the chapter on Wednesday, April 4. The committee in charge of the dinner is composed of Ray T. Harner, chairman, Clyde W. Crouse and Robert V. Weaver. The next Jaycees meeting will be held Monday, March 5, at 7:30 o'clock at Schottie's hotel.
